Dear Rama Bhadra,

I express my sincere thanks for your generous support to the Police families, who became victims of recent floods in Kurnool District, Andhra Pradesh.

Your compassion and support have enabled us to reach out to many Police families, who were stuck in the unprecedented floods, with food, shelter, and comfort during a desperate time in their lives.

But for your Support it would have taken much more time and effort for these Families to recover from devastation caused by the calamity of immeasurable dimension.

We could not completely compensate for the loss. Nevertheless the generosity of colleagues, friends and well wishers like you, in far off places, amazed us and is great encouragement for the work we do.

I once again express my gratitude on behalf of myself and affected families. I also assure of our rededication to the cause of Police.

With warm regards

To
